Introduction

Tea is a work of art and requires a master's hand if its most important properties are to be enjoyed.

There is good tea and bad tea, just as there are good and bad pictures.

There are no certain rules for the production of perfect tea, just as there are no rules for the creation of a Titian…

Each way of preparing tea-leaves has its own individuality and special relationship to water and temperature. Each has its own inheritance of memories and its own unique history.

The only necessity is that each must always contain true beauty.

Introduction

WE WELCOME YOU TO THE DOBRA TEA-ROOM, PURVEYOR OF THE TRULY FINE TEAS

This registered tradename has already become a guarantee of the highest quality of the tea served on our premises or sold by weight in a range of different original boxes.

This superb quality is ensured by two simple but fundamental rules:

- the freshness of the tea is guaranteed by the Company of Tea-Devotees, which imports it directly from tea gardens all over the world,

- the preparation, serving and sale of tea in the Dobra Tea-room is in the hands of journeymen tea-devotees who are highly knowledgeable in the science of tea and skilled in a variety of special tea techniques, tricks of the trade and mysteries. Our way of serving tea is inspired by the traditions of the Orient. And as these vary so much, here is a little guide to the basic principles which the Dobra Tea-room observes:

- unless otherwise stated, teas which are fully fermented, scented and flavoured, such as representative examples of half green and green teas are served in teapots contain a minimum of 3-5 dl.

- teas of more than one pouring, unless otherwise stated, are served in different teapots identified by the symbol or and contain a minimum of 3-5 dl.

A solitary tea-drinker is traditionally served with a cup of the type "Gai Wan" or with the set "Kyoto" which holds 1.5 dl as we are pleased to recommend.

Multi-infusion tea in a 3-5 dl teapot (or ) served with 1.0 l of hot water. Multi-infusion tea in "Gai Wan" cup served with 0.5 l of hot water. Repetition of a symbol indicates the number of pouring we recommend.

Introduction

From the Chinese Tea Reader Ch'a-su

Suitable moments for drinking tea:
When we are interrupted while contemplating
During a good conversation deep into the night
When there is a light soft drizzle
With agreeable friends and slim concubines
When the children are at school
In a bamboo grove on a spring evening
Under unusual rocks.

Unsuitable moments:
At the theatre
While opening letters
When the children are not at school
In torrential rain

To be avoided when drinking tea:
Sullen servants
Bad waters
Money worries
Large gatherings

To be avoided at all costs:
Shrieking children
Squabbling women
Garrulous people
Noisy streets

Teas with Vision

ORIGINALS IN THE OFFER OF DOBRA TEA ROOMS

On the pages of the Catalogue With Vision!, which we released for the 25th anniversary of the Company of Tea Devotees establishing we have declared our new and radical approach to tea growing, with the utmost effort to avoid chemically treated teas. However, the protection of our customers' health is not the only objective we are pursuing.

Thanks to the regular tea trips that we organize every spring to the areas where tea is grown, we are able to choose reliable and proven sources.

In addition to qualified experts and certified bio-quality gardens, we are also meeting with new tea growing processes, where the importance of sustainable farming is put above short-term profits. However, it is not only new trends that lead to the fulfillment of the Forest Friendly Farming slogan, but sometimes quite the opposite, the most primitive approaches when tea is harvested on wild trees growing directly in the jungle. We intend to support these approaches in the future by buying tea primarily from Forest Friendly Farming farmers, i.e. those who protect nature, do not burn forests and do not plant mono-cultural growths susceptible to pests and thus doomed to pesticide treatment.

Below is the list of our most unique teas that at the same time meet our highest criteria for purity.

Teas with Vision

DHARA WHITE

Thailand

Probably the most important tea in our offer that meets the criteria we have set for ourselves is white tea from Thailand. This tea is collected directly in the wild jungle in northern Thailand near the border with Burma. The original Wild Assamica tea plants grow directly amongst other wild vegetation, and local farmers from the mountain tribal villages collect them by working their way through the original uninterrupted biotope. This tea's appearance and taste is similar to the Chinese Bai Mu Dan. It is absolutely unique, supplied by a family-owned company from Chiang Mai, which also operates its own tea house called Monsoon Tea.

Teas with Vision

PA PAE FOREST GOLD

Thailand

On the slopes with original forest growth above the village of Pa Pae, there is a forest Buddhist monastery, where monks live in classic bamboo huts called "Kuti". Between these huts grows a wild large-leaved tea tree, which belongs to the original vegetation of this place. Local people, under the leadership of representatives of the Good Tea House, harvest this tea and process it into the necessary forms. The offered yellow tea is the result of several years of testing various variants of processing methods, which could be traced from available sources in China. The tea has a large-leaved appearance, although the leaves used for its production were only tips with the first leaf. The golden infusion is darker than the infusions of traditional green teas, although the tea was de-enzymatized by rapid heating on a hot pan. The tea retains its wildness in taste, stemming from the biodiversity of the collection site.

PA PAE FOREST AMBER

Thailand

From the Thai forest monastery, where Buddhism meets tea drinking, we import partially fermented leaf tea, the processing of which is exclusively manual. The tea is collected from wild Assam-type tea plants.

PA PAE FOREST BLACK DIAMONT

Thailand

Northern Thailand is considered the place where the wild tea plant was discovered. Originally, it was processed by local hill tribes only for food, but later, thanks to the influence of Chinese immigrants, it began to be processed for drinking. The tea offered is collected and processed exclusively by hand in the local village community, where the forest Buddhist monastery and meditation center called Pa Pae is located. The infusion is bright dark red, the leaves with a high content of tips. The tea is collected in the winter season in early April.

WOORICHA

South Korea

Fully fermented tea from the family farm of master Cho, which is like the green Darack collected and processed exclusively by hand. The gardens where the tea is collected lie in the higher positions of the Jiri Shan Mountains. Wooricha means "home-made tea". A taste of cocoa can be found in the flavor. The Dobra Tea-room customers voted it the "Tea of 2016".

SA BANG

Laos

"Tea in Bamboo"

At the northern border of Laos, in the Phongsaly region, in the inaccessible mountains near the small hamlet of Ban Komaen there are gardens of tall wild tea trees. Local villagers pick the leaves in an acrobatic way from the tall tree crowns to then let them fade on bamboo plates in direct sunlight. The still damp leaves are then stuffed into bamboo stalks and dried over the fire. After drying, bamboos are cracked and the tea, the shape of which resembles a cigar, is wrapped in bast fiber. This tea is absolutely unique. We discovered it in this area during our adventure expedition in 2016. At the World Tea Competition in Las Vegas, it won the third prize among all the green Puerh teas in 2016.

YA BAO

China Yunnan

Freely translates as "bud cocoon"

A wonder in form and taste, harvested from wild tea-plants growing in South China, and in appearance distantly resembling dried maybugs. The unfermented tips grow straight from the branches after these have been pruned to rejuvenate the plants. A very delicate, luminous brew with light herbal and resinous tones.

BAI MU DAN CHA

China Fujian

White Peony

The highest class of this line of teas, which will take several infusions. An excellent tea for purefying the mind and body. Flat light green leaves with brownish edges and an abundance of silver downy tips from the ends of the shoots. A sparkling yellowish infusion. The veil of captivatingly fine flowery aroma and gourmet sweetish taste conceals the great potency of this tea.

White Teas

BAI YA BING CHA

China Yunnan

"White Cake"

A white tea pressed into the form of a cake. A curiosity from Yunnan Province. Fine tea-leaves of Bai Mu Dan type are used to make it. The technology of processing (pressing) and the origin of the tea-leaves (Yunnan), means that this version of white tea yields more strong successive infusions than most others.

PUTUO FO CHA

China Zhejiang

The Buddha's Tea from the Island of Putuo Shan

The almost two-and-a-half thousand-year tradition of cultivating gourmet tea on the island guarantees with complete certainty that this particular tea, grown in the gardens between the Buddhist monastery and processed only by hand, will be abounding in superior quality. All available information suggests that this is the first consignment of such tea ever to reach the old continent.

LONG JING CHA

China Zhejiang

Tiger Spring

A famous tea line from the Chinese province of Zhe Jiang, it is called after a place of pilgrimage for all lovers of this kind of tea in the Tiyun Mountains. The Tiger Spring is the source of the best water for infusioning Long Jing tea. A flat firm leaf, light green in colour is the mark of a quality Long Jing. Connoisseurs regard this tea as one of the very finest green China teas. The limpid light-green infusion has a super-fine taste and aroma even after several infusions. Long Jing "Tiger Spring" is exclusively hand-processed in large metal bowls. The tea is suitable for meetings and conversations between the dearest friends.

BI LUO CHUNG "TAI HU"

China Jiangsu

Blue-Green Spirals of Spring from Tai Lake

This genuine tea original, branded a Persian tea, is produced in a very small quantity in the Chinese province of Jiangsu on the gentle slopes of Dong Shan, lying on the peninsula engulfed by Lake Tai. The minuscule leaves are dark green to silver in colour, shaped like spirally rolled tiny needles. The liquid is transparent green, with a fresh, mildly herbal, quite astringent taste.

NINE DRAGONS MAO FENG CHA

China Yunnan

This excellent green tea from the Chinese province of Yunnan will impress you at first sight. The leaves are dark green, richly interwoven with silvery green shoots, which testify to careful harvesting and high quality. They are elegantly rolled into larger curls, which unfold beautifully when steeped and release their fresh scent. The aroma is distinctive, fresh and sweet, with grassy tones that are reminiscent of a spring meadow after rain. The infusion has a delicate yellow-green color and offers a typical smoky trace, which is characteristic of green teas from Yunnan. The taste combines pleasant bitterness with light sweetness, which creates a balanced and refreshing experience. This tea is ideal for green tea lovers who are looking for something with a distinctive profile and traditional character.

LU AN GUAPIAN

China Anhui

Melon Seed

The unusual appearance of the tea and the fact that it is one of the five most famous teas of China led us to an interest in this representative of the tea production of Anhui Province. Lu An Guapian also appealed to us, however, by its unusually fresh grassy taste and so earned its chance to become a further ambassador of the Middle Kingdom on the Dobra Tea-room list.

CHUN MEI CHA (Organic)

China Zhejiang

Precious Eyebrow

An original version of the standard line of green leaf tea for everyday drinking from the Zhejiang province. In Chinese restaurants it is served as an accompaniment to food. Light green irregular leaves rolled into crescents, with a metallic gleam that is the mark of freshness. The translucent yellow-green infusion has a lightly astringent taste and aroma.

Green Teas

Japan

MATCHA KYOTO

Japan Uji

This is a first-class type of powdered extra-fine ground tea. Matcha is used at what is known as the Japanese tea ceremony during which the tea is whisked with a bamboo rod called a chasen in an original bowl called a chawan. Quality Matcha is always a pea-green extra-fine powder with a distinctive grassy aroma. The foamy infusion is a fresh green, with an unforgettable, very intense taste. We recommend that it be enjoyed after dessert or a Japanese sweet, but never on an empty stomach. N.B. At the Dobra Tea-room we only present a small part of the Japanese tea ceremony.

Kč 188,-

GYOKURO KYOTO

Japan Uji

An excellent, very distinguished Japanese green tea. Its delicious taste and fresh grassy scent of Spring offers a touch of heaven in your cup. This tea is one of the most valued products of the Nippon Empire. It is picked by hand in specially shaded fields and guarantees a rare experience, enhanced by an original method of preparation. Dark green flat subtle leaves of uniform side, a fresh grassy aroma and a gourmet taste. The Gyokuro type of tea is much prized for the characteristically strong taste that is especially pronounced when it is very carefully brewed in miniature infusion bowls. It is usual to make three infusions from the same leaves, allowing the sovereign quality of this tea to be enjoyed to the full.

KABUKICHA (KABUSECHA)

Japan

It is partly overshadowed Japanese Kabuse type green tea. In Dobra Tea-rooms, however, it is used in an exceptional tea ceremony called Chakabuki. This ceremony was presented to us by its author, tea master Masahiro Takada, during several visits to Europe and the United States in recent years.

YAMACHA

Japan Hamamatsu

Very few tea importers can boast true mountain tea from faraway Japan. This tea is grown on terrace gardens on the lower slopes of the mountains that rise above the town of Hamamatsu in the south of the island of Honshu. The tea offered here was carefully tasted and selected in a traditional teahouse in the little Japanese town of Uji by the Good Tea-Devotees expedition.

SENCHA SHIROHIME

Japan Fukuoka

White Queen of Yame

The name "White Queen" refers to a very rare cultivar of light-colored leaves - albinos. White tea leaves are very rare in Japan, they are a natural mutation of a clone in the area of Yame city, Fukuoka prefecture. It tastes similar to Gyokuro tea in a sharp sweet umami flavor. The leaves are golden in color, sweet in smell and during steeping the color of the leaves changes from yellow-green to very light yellow, almost white.

KABUSE FUKAMUSHI

Japan

Knight of Yame

Discover in a cup the uniqueness of Japanese tea art, which combines traditional methods with modern elegance and offers a unique experience for your senses. This unique tea stands out for its dark green color and intense flavor, which is obtained thanks to the special kabuse process, where the tea leaves are covered with a shading cloth before picking, thus achieving a unique color and rich flavor. The term fukamushi refers to a longer steaming time in the initial processing process, which results in an intense flavor with a delicate acidity.

SENCHA KYOTO

Japan Uji

The Japanese green tea sold under this label is currently the most typical tea on the Japanese market. It is a line particularly famous for its painstaking processing. Dark green, flat leaves of uniform size, with a fresh grassy aroma and a delicate taste. Sencha has very beneficial effects on body and soul: it stimulates, purifies the organism and is rich in Vitamin C. It produces a rich infusion even after several infusions. A good tea for a quiet meeting with close friends.

KAMACHA

Japan Ureshino

The history of processing tea leaves in Japan is not as long as in neighboring China, but the current method of processing tea is as unique, as the whole Japanese culture. The vast majority of the tea leaves is processed through steaming, but there is an exception, which is the offered Kamacha made through the old orthodox Chinese method, when the wet leaves are rapidly heated on hot pan.

KUKICHA KYOTO

Japan Uji

A tea made of stems or even leaf-stalks as well, and a tea rarity in this country. This type of tea is also often the basis for the production of Hojicha, but in this case it is a by-product of the manufacture of the gourmet tea Gyokuro. Light green leaf-stalks, a light green infusion and delicate grassy aroma. It gives a rich brew even after several infusion.

DARJEELING FIRST FLUSH

India

In the harsh mountain climate of the Himalayas, in the Darjeeling area, the first Spring tea harvest takes place from March to the end of April and is called the First Flush. The tea produced from this harvest is valued particularly for its flowery aroma, but since this rapidly diminishes with weeks and months of storage, it is very important that the tea be fresh. We buy for the Dobra Tea-room on the Calcutta tea market and transport the tea by air. This means that we can guarantee the freshness of the tea in your cup. It will be on the menu only while the fresh stock lasts.

Tea Treasures

THE MYSTERY OF THE THREE TREASURE TROVES

Three aromas, three tastes and three colours from a single tea bush! Three representatives of the world of Chinese tea meet on a single wooden tray at the Dobra Tea-room:

1. GREEN - LU CHA

China Yunnan

A green, i.e. unfermented form of the well-known Chinese tea produced in the celebrated Sout China province of Yunnan. Sorted, uniformly rolled leaves of light green colour, suffused with the grassy aroma of fresh green tea and full of taste, lightly astringent.

2. RED - HONG CHA

China Yunnan

A first-class red tea from the South China province of Yunnan. Fine, uniformly rolled leaves of brown-red colour, excellent characteristic tea aroma, with a full and slightly tart taste.

3. DARK - HEI CHA

China Yunnan

An extra-fermented, dark tea from the South China province of Yunnan, previously unusual in this country. Long rolled dark-brown leaves with a grey gloss on the surface. This tea is distinguished for its entirely specific (earthy) aroma of ancient Buddhist monasteries. We present these teas in three special sets that are used throughout the tea world for very precise tastings.
